GINGER LERNER-WREN COUNTY COURT JUDGE COUNTY COURT CRIMINAL SEVENTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

BROWARD COUNTY COURTHOUSE 201 S.E. 6th Street FORT LAUDERDALE, FL 33301 (954) 831-7240 JWREN@17th.FLCOURTS.ORG

Curriculum Vitae

Professional Experience:

Judge Lerner-Wren was elected to the County Court in 1996. Formally with the Advocacy Center for Persons with Disabilities, Inc., (the designated Federal Protection and Advocacy System for The State of Florida), Judge Lerner-Wren was asked to oversee the implementation of a Stipulated Settlement Agreement on behalf of the Plaintiffs in a class action affecting treatment conditions and community-based treatment of care for discharges re: South Florida State Hospital. Ginger was asked to serve in this highly responsible position due to her expertise in serving persons with disabilities through her Court Service as Public Guardian of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit.

Appointed by Chief Circuit Judge Dale Ross in 1997 to serve as The Public Guardian of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit, Judge Lerner-Wren was responsible for directing and administrating all operations of the Office of Public Guardian. She was legally responsible for the health, safety, and welfare of disabled adult clients, all of whom were legally incapacitated and in need of a legal guardian and case management support in the community. Appointed by the Probate Court Ginger routinely was responsible for having to make extraordinary treatment decisions on broad-based matters and on issues affecting levels of care. Further, Ginger was responsible for the oversight of treatment plans and worked collaboratively with community-based senior, mental health and related social service agencies and a wide array of long-term care facilities. Ginger routinely assisted and consulted with Broward County Adult Protective Services re: abuse and neglect matters.

Judge Lerner-Wren was assigned to the County Criminal bench in January of 1997. Judge Wren's regular criminal court responsibilities include the administration of a full regular criminal misdemeanor division, including presiding over all dockets, pretrial motions, probationary matters, and jury trials.

Within months of taking the bench, in what has been recognized as a historic Administrative Order (dated June 22, 1997), Judge Lerner-Wren was appointed by Chief Judge Dale Ross to Administrate and Preside over the Nation's first Mental Health Court. Judge Lerner-Wren was deemed a "perfect fit" for this innovative Court, established as a "specialized diversion court" to address the complexities of mentally ill offenders arrested on nonviolent misdemeanant offenses and to improve the administration of justice for those with serious mental and psychiatric disorders.

The Mental Health Court, dedicated to the safe diversion and treatment of the mentally ill has been featured on Good Morning America, National Public Radio, CNN and covered by countless news media reports and articles nationally and internationally. The Broward County Mental Health Court was recommended as a preventative court strategy by Human Rights Watch, Special Report, "Ill Equipped", 2003.

Judge Lerner-Wren and the Mental Health Court have received numerous honors and recognition related to the innovation of the Court, the application of Therapeutic Jurisprudence and for the humanitarian treatment of persons with serious mental illness.

The Mental Health Court through its application of Therapeutic Jurisprudence has been hailed as "Best Practice" and was showcased at The White House Conference on Mental Health, 1999, and was the model for Federal Legislation passed by Congress in 2000 to pilot Mental Health Courts in the United States. (See, America's Law Enforcement and Mental Health Project).

As a result of her innovative work in criminal justice, Judge Lerner-Wren was appointed by President George W. Bush to serve on the President's New Freedom Commission on Mental Health in (2002). Chair, Criminal Justice Sub-Committee.
