

Lorraine Thomas Endowed Scholarship

Nova Southeastern University Center for Psychological Studies is now accepting nominations/applications for the Lorraine Thomas Endowed Scholarship. This scholarship is available to graduate psychology students currently matriculated in any Center for Psychological Studies program demonstrating a career interest in working with children and adolescents.

Students in good standing are eligible for nomination by a CPS administrator or faculty member. Student may make application independently. The dollar amount of this scholarship varies and is payable in the form of a tuition waiver.

Background

The Lorraine Thomas Endowed Scholarship is funded through an endowment provided by Lorraine Thomas, who was honored at the CPS Third Annual Humanitarian of the Year Award as one of South Florida's children's most generous benefactors. This fund is to be used to provide scholarships to outstanding students who are in financial need and whose clinical/research activities are commensurate with the purpose of the Lorraine Thomas Endowed Scholarship.

Eligibility

The applicant must be a current student who is matriculated in a graduate program in the Center for Psychological Studies. Students currently on academic probation are not eligible during their period of probation. Students under review for Professional Standing related issues may be deemed ineligible until the resolution of their review.

For further information email karol@nova.edu.