

ETHICS, DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, AND MEDICAL ERRORS: WHAT THE LICENSED PSYCHOLOGIST NEEDS TO KNOW

Presenters: David Shapiro, Ph.D., ABPP and Lenore Walker, Ed.D., ABPP

Friday, September 8, 2017 ♦ 9:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Fort Lauderdale, Florida

This seven-hour course was designed to meet the biennial licensure renewal requirements for licensed psychologists. Participants will meet Florida's mandate for continuing education in the areas of professional ethics and Florida statutes and rules (3 hours). Content specific to domestic violence (2 hours), including evidence-based techniques to assess and treat battered women who demonstrate Battered Woman Syndrome and other clinical disorders will be discussed. The medical errors portion of the course (2 hours) will cover prevention, including a study of root-cause analysis, error reduction and prevention, and patient safety.

Ethics for Licensed Psychologists: The most recent revision of the Code of Ethics of the American Psychological Association changed in many notable ways. Many of the ambiguous terms in the previous Code were clarified, but a host of new problems arose due to some new concepts as well as new federal laws (e.g., HIPAA). This workshop will highlight some of the changes, as well as analyze how to deal with troublesome areas created by new laws. Related Florida Statutes and Rules will be addressed.

Domestic Violence: This workshop will cover content specified in Florida Statutes for continuing education, as well as updated research and techniques in working with battered women who demonstrate Battered Women Syndrome, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder, Affective Disorders, and other clinical syndromes. New psycho-pharmacological interventions and standardized assessment instruments to guide treatment objectives will also be discussed. This workshop is designed to meet the licensure renewal requirements for all mental health professionals.

Medical Errors: This two hour required training for licensure renewal will enable participants to respond to issues involving medical error reduction in the practice of behavioral health care. Through presentation and discussion of the concepts of root-cause analysis, error reduction and prevention, and reporting standards, participants will gain additional skills that will enhance client safety and well-being.

ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Lenore Walker, Ed.D., ABPP is a former professor and coordinator of the forensic psychology concentration at Nova Southeastern University's Center for Psychological Studies. She earned her doctorate degree from Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey in 1972, and earned her post-doctoral M.S. in psychopharmacology from NSU in June 2004. Walker has written 14 books and over 50 book chapters and articles in the area of domestic violence, child abuse, and women's issues in therapy since her first book, The Battered Woman, was published in 1979.
